Department of Information Technology

Notification

No. 1(40)/DOIT/Order/2001/485

The various Departments in the Government of Goa have been computerizing the activities of their departments over the years, by using various operating systems, programming languages, etc. In order to ensure total compatibility, seamless transfer of data/information, (intra/inter departments, accessibility of the permissible information/services through Internet, etc.) among them, it is necessary to use a simple set of operating systems, platforms and languages, in an appropriate technology & architecture.

2. The Department of Information Technology, after substantial deliberations, is recommending the use of Linux as a operating system extensively unless and other wise, other operating systems are essential. The Government therefore desires that all the departments shall route their E-governance proposals through the Directorate of Information Technology, Government of Goa with the view to ensure that recommendations are given to them for the technology, operating systems, architecture, network transfer protocol, etc. to be used appropriately.

This Notification comes into force with immediate effect.
